

Waterloo North Mennonite Church

July 2020 Congregational Re-Opening Plan

We have a task force assessing the situation, and recently sent out a survey to learn about people's desires and fears.

We have not yet made a decision to open up, but are leaning to have a limited in person format with 30 or less people in the building at a time. No decision will be made until mid August, and depending on the pandemic, it could easily be changed.
