Team Questions

17. From time to time in the Bible, people are confronted with a choice – to obey human authorities, or to obey God.

Show how this was true for the Hebrew midwives as told in Exodus Chapter 1. Describe the circumstances, the choice they had to make. What was the outcome of their choice, both personally and for the people of Israel?

What kind of situation might you as a youth face today that presents a challenge and a choice about where your ultimate loyalty lies? What might be the consequences for good or bad of your choice?

18. When Moses was still a young man and trying to figure out his own identity, he found himself defending the oppressed, which resulted in him needing to flee for his own life to a place where those same actions saw his fortunes change. From the very beginning of his story Moses was misunderstood by some, and appreciated by others whom he wanted to assist.

From Chapter 2, show how this is true.

What can this story tell you about times in life when you might mean well – doing what you believe God would want you to do - but where you could easily be misunderstood by someone you want to help? How can Moses' experience help you find a perspective to see you through a time when you might feel driven away from the people who matter to you?
